ATR VERDICT: ZUHAIR improved leaps and bounds from his introduction to land the spoils in tidy fashion at Nottingham in June. Off the track since, the well-bred son of Showcasing is taken to land this before moving on to bigger and better things. Victorious Night has experience to call upon and should be in the mix once more, while Affwonn is intriguing after his switch to the Alex Dunn stable from Roger Varian, for whom he won on debut at Wolverhampton in December.

ATR VERDICT: It could pay to side with EXCELLENT GEORGE in what looks a tricky puzzle for punters to solve. He is a three-time C&D winner and bounced back to form when a staying-on fourth at Yarmouth last time (may have finished closer but for interference). Busby outran massive odds over 1m at Kempton latest and is an interesting player back sprinting, while Tomshalfbrother has every chance if producing his best.

Long Handicap: Newgate Angel 8 - 11, Mightaswellsmile 8 - 11, Tilsworth Rose 8 - 11, Trulove 8 - 11

ATR VERDICT: A mere 2lb rise for a gutsy win at Redcar may not be enough to stop FOSSOS from following up. The second and seventh from that race have won subsequently so the form has a solid look to it. The veteran Lucky Beggar should be suited by the drop back to the minimum trip and he would not be winning out of turn. Morty is another who deserves a mention, although he was also scheduled to appear at Ripon on Monday. Newgate Angel and Star Citizen also make the shortlist.

Top Tip: FOSSOS (8)

ATR VERDICT: This race would seem to revolve around horses in need of both a step up in trip and a drop down. GILT EDGE falls into the latter category having been worn down in the final stages here over an extended 7f. He has won two of his last three at this trip so it makes sense to cut back to it. In contrast, Sarah's Verse looks as though she will relish going up in distance having been outpaced the last twice over shorter. Sweet Pursuit is another for the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: ALEATORIC recorded his third victory of 2021 when scoring comfortably over an extended 2m at Wolverhampton last time and, with course-winning form to boot, he is fancied to defy a further 3lb rise in the ratings. First-time gelding Nibras Gold and Where You At are closely matched on their recent Wolverhampton clash and both warrant respect, while Blazon shouldn't be too far away either.

ATR VERDICT: Neil Mulholland looks to have picked up a nice little moneyspinner in the shape of TRUE ROMANCE, who got up by the shortest of margins on his first start for the stable at Bath. A C&D winner in the past, he can supplement that success here in the capable hands of Ben Curtis. Recent track-and-trip winner Amourie stands out as the biggest threat, while International Lion and Bouncing Bobby are also worthy of respect.

The four-year-old hit the line with conviction on that occasion and he gets the nod to land the spoils on his first attempt at this distance. Running Cloud also arrives on the back of a success and warrants plenty of respect. Master Grey hasn't been far away of late and completes the shortlist.

The son of Zoffany has gone very close on his last two starts at this track and remains feasibly handicapped. ATR VERDICT: TRIPLE NICKLE failed to record a hat-trick of wins on her latest outing, having to settle for fourth at Chepstow. She competes off a 3lb figure here and could capitalise. Beowulf posted a career-best effort with a breakthrough triumph over C&D and the Ed Walker-trained three-year-old is a big danger. The Nu Form Way has shown plenty of promise in his three starts and further progress is expected on his handicap debut.

ATR VERDICT: DINERO FALSO was a good second to Bennystiara over course and distance last month and can go one better. The 114-rated third probably didn't run to his mark on that occasion, but it was still a good effort from the daughter of Black Sam Bellamy who was also runner-up on her previous start at Wexford. Favori Logique has a similar chance on ratings and comes here after two solid runs over a bit further at Downpatrick. He's more exposed than the selection but nonetheless looks a big danger. Plan B split a pair of subsequent winners when fifth on his hurdling debut over three miles at Wexford and has good prospects if as effective over this shorter trip, while the experienced So Enjoy should come on for last month's reappearance after nearly a year off and has place claims. Share The Joy is a half-sister to five winners and is a newcomer to note.

ATR VERDICT: There was plenty of encouragement to be taken from GOLDEN WARRIOR's debut in a big field at Newmarket. Travelling in the style of a talented colt, the Charlie Hills-trained juvenile only faded late on and he is expected to know more at the second time of asking. Helvetique must be high in calculations after a taking win at Chepstow, while Skittlebombz is another on the shortlist after a promising second at Haydock for the in-form Tom Dascombe team.

ATR VERDICT: GIVEPEACECHANCE broke her Flat duck when scoring over 1m6f at Nottingham and she will prove tough to beat if able to reproduce that form on this all-weather surface. If a 4lb rise proves too much, plus Laura Pearson can only claim 3lb compared to the 5lb latest, Midfield could be closest on hand to take advantage. She is an interesting player stepping up in trip with a first-time visor fitted, while Denable holds each-way claims.

ATR VERDICT: ON THE RIVER has more experience than his rivals and he certainly has been getting the hang of the racing game of late. An easy winner last time out at Musselburgh and a narrow second prior to that, the Ben Haslam-trained colt can go in again. Madame Ambassador should relish going beyond a mile for the first time, and the same can be said for Mount Snowdon. Zimmerman is also of interest on his handicap debut.

ATR VERDICT: SILK TIE produced a career-best performance when a close-up fifth on his handicap debut over C&D latest and may improve further for the application of a first-time hood. Cable Guy, sporting first-time cheekpieces, was a running-on fourth over 5f at Bath and he warrants respect stepping up in trip off a 2lb lower mark. Track-and-trip scorer Bungledupinblue also has a squeak.

ATR VERDICT: William Buick is riding on the crest of a wave at present and he may be just what is needed to end FASHION FREE's losing streak. Beaten only a head on her penultimate start over C&D, she can claim the spoils ahead of recent all-weather winner Far From A Ruby, who remains a maiden on turf. Parikarma has also been in decent form of late and should be in the mix along with unexposed handicap debutant Cambridgeshire.

ATR VERDICT: MR TYRRELL has done nothing but improve in four starts so far this year and can notch a third win from his last four outings. He and Liam Browne (on board for the gelding's last two starts) have struck up a great relationship, and a 3lb rise for his Sandown success is fair. Course specialist Prince Rock was touched off at Epsom last week and he looks sure to give another good account. Kondratiev Wave shouldn't be too far away either.

ATR VERDICT: ALICE AVRIL should be all the better from her Irish chasing debut in Limerick last month. She raced keenly that day and moved clear at the third last before the petrol inevitably ran out approaching the straight. She finished well behind the joint favourites in third but, to put the effort in context, the horse well adrift of her in fifth just failed by a neck in a beginners' chase at the Galway Festival. This drop back in trip could also aid her cause as she won a claiming hurdle in her native France over a similar distance to this. Poseidon showed marked improvement on his second crack at fences in Tipperary. He was always to the fore before giving best in second at the penultimate fence. Santana Plessis unseated four out in that race when still in contention so has his chance.

Top Tip: ALICE AVRIL (10)
