ATR VERDICT: Mark's Choice posted a career-best effort when triumphing in the Great St Wilfrid consolation race over C&D on his first run after a wind operation. The five-year-old could follow up but preference is for I AM A DREAMER, who has a 5lb swing in his favour having finished fourth on that occasion. Pivoting is still relatively lightly raced and there could be more to come after a short break.

ATR VERDICT: Front-running tactics worked for Eloquent Arthur last week after he battled back when headed and a 6lb penalty may not stop him following up dropped in class over the same trip. Eve Johnson Houghton has won two of the last three runnings, suggesting Marselan could go well in a first-time tongue-tie, though he does need to step up on recent efforts and they could struggle to cope with ARTHUR'S VICTORY. Produced very late for small margin victories, he is hard for the handicapper to assess and an added 3lb may not stop his hat-trick bid.

ATR VERDICT: Saisons D'Or drops in class after a poor run at Thirsk but a hood is applied and if he can repeat the performance of his Ayr second in June, he is a force to reckon with. Antagonize battled back to win at Beverley and has a great attitude, but AVAILABLE ANGEL ended a run of placed efforts with a victory at Yarmouth and with her 6lb penalty offset by Kieran Schofield's 5lb claim, can go in again.

Both should go well but a fast early pace may well suit ANGELS ROC, who can start slowly before running on late and Jim Boyle will know the sort needed having won this race in 2017 and 2019.

ATR VERDICT: Spantik is interesting down in class after a five-length fourth at Carlisle and he could go well off 1lb lower, but NEAR KETTERING arrives on the back of a clear-cut win over timber when sent off favourite at Market Rasen. Back on the Flat, he appears nicely treated and can follow up. Haizoom has been holding his form quite well, may have more to come, and is another to consider.

ATR VERDICT: DOLPHIN VISTA's recent third at Epsom can undoubtedly be upgraded considering the eight-year-old was repeatedly denied a run. The form of that race was been boosted subsequently and the son of Zoffany gets the nod to add another win to his tally. Hackbridge did the best of his work at the back end of the contest when second at Lingfield but this step back in trip from 1m4f shouldn't pose too many issues. Fascinating Shadow is still lightly raced and must be respected.

He showed some encouraging signs at Cartmel on his first run since having a wind operation where, despite getting detached, he stayed on well at the finish. Despite the small field it was a strong-looking race and he should now have more confidence, which means improvement might be on the cards and he could have a live chance. ATR VERDICT: The progressive SEA PRINCE looks the one to beat in this contest after a good win at Cartmel, and this could be a good opportunity for him to make it three wins from six career starts. Miss M shaped like she will benefit for the drop back to this trip at Fontwell so she may be one of the main protagonists, while Just Call Me Al may be more competitive over hurdles on his first run since having a wind operation.

Top Tip: SEA PRINCE (1)
