ATR VERDICT: This may revolve around AMERICAN SNIPER, who shaped well when second on debut over C&D last month and, granted normal improvement, he can repay the faith shown last time when going off favourite. Far more was expected of Wind Of Fortune when making his debut here last month and it could be that we see a totally different proposition this time around. Testflight showed marked improvement from his first to second start when third at Newton Abbot and he is entitled to go on again here.

ATR VERDICT: SLAINTE MHATH has stepped forward in handicap company and arrives having got off the mark here in May. She went up 6lb for that success and appears capable of further improvement with the forecast rain unlikely to harm her chances. Classy Al bounced back to form when fourth at Hamilton and he has to enter calculations, with a stiffer test of stamina over this distance a positive. Others worthy of consideration include Final Account (seventh) and Communion (eighth), the pair of them capable of better after their recent meeting at Redcar.

ATR VERDICT: FAT SAM could hardly have done it any easier at Ffos Las last month and connections look to have found a perfect opportunity to exploit a hurdles mark, which is 3lb less than what he last won off over fences. Tiger Orchid arrives with similar claims following a bloodless success at Southwell in May, while the frustrating, yet talented, Oceanline makes his first start for new connections.

ATR VERDICT: Glasses Up produced a cracking effort when runner-up over course and distance last time and warrants respect if taking up this engagement (also declared here yesterday). However, it may be worth focusing on THRONE HALL, who produced his best effort for Archie Watson when second at York on his latest start. Zuraig was unlucky in running at Musselburgh last time and can get involved, while Charging Thunder is a capable performer on his day and shouldn't be far away either.

Top Tip: THRONE HALL (1)
