ATR VERDICT: LET'S GO HUGO, who won a novice race over C&D in July, was only beaten a length in a competitive heat on his nursery debut at Beverley last month. He could be hard to beat off the same mark if reproducing that level of form. Dark Crusade has shown promise on his last couple of starts and should not be underestimated, while Castan and Lola's Moment are the pick of the remainder.

ATR VERDICT: HEER AT DAWN, who went close over course and distance last month from a wide draw, must have a real chance from a much more favourable berth. He made a bold bid before his early efforts just told inside the last furlong. Robert Whearty should be able to negotiate an easier passage on this occasion and save more energy for a late challenge. The Bog Bank proved too strong for Heer At Dawn when they met last time, overcoming stall 16 to win for Tom McCourt. Again handed a difficult draw on this occasion, she will do well to repeat that feat. Sod's Law has remained in decent form since winning at this track in June so has to be a live contender. Navorrosse makes a quick reappearance after her Listowel success and again has her chance.

ATR VERDICT: WAITING ALL NIGHT will not find many better opportunities than this to return to winning ways. Richard Spencer's colt has been highly tried this season, finishing fifth in both the Coventry and July Stakes, and he should be a class above his rivals. Mahalik was third over C&D at the beginning of August but hasn't matched that level of form in two subsequent starts, while Slingsbytoo edges out Blue Jay Way to be best of the rest.

Long Handicap: Mornington Bay 7 - 13

ATR VERDICT: RANSOM has to defy a welter burden but comes here in great form and may be up to the task. He's been beaten less than a length when runner-up in his last two outings at Navan and Listowel and his stable is in excellent form. Fastman is four years without a win but is clearly on a competitive mark after three successive placed efforts. He turns out again quickly after finishing second over 7f at Down Royal on Monday. Tara Power was second over C&D in July and is now 2lb lower. He wasn't beaten far when sixth at Punchestown last time and may improve for the fitting of headgear.

ATR VERDICT: Denied by the narrowest of margins at Ascot on his latest outing, SUNNINGDALE is fancied to make amends and go one better. Mohammed Tabti's 7lb claim could prove invaluable as the son of Gleneagles seeks to repel Chepstow scorer Little Edi, who appears to be the biggest danger. True Statesman ought to fare better in these calmer waters, but Family Ties will need more if she is to feature.

ATR VERDICT: POLAR BEAR is the one to beat on ratings. He ran some respectable races earlier in the campaign but seems to have benefitted from the application of a visor. Touched off in a Navan nursery on his penultimate start, he was then fourth in a valuable sales race at Naas and coming back in trip will suit him. Reinforce was placed three times in a row during the summer and wasn't beaten at all far in a Fairyhouse nursery last week. He's done most of his racing over a furlong further and has 6lb to find with the selection at these weights. Escaping The Jungle represents local connections and was a creditable fourth at Navan on her latest start. Those in front of her on that occasion have all advertised the form since.

ATR VERDICT: A step up in trip looks set to benefit OH SO CHIC as she bids to regain the winning thread. Ed Bethell's mare proved suited by the stiff nature of Carlisle's run-in when successful over 1m6f last month, which she followed up with a good second at Redcar, and the greater emphasis on stamina can eke out further improvement. Lady Shanawell returned to form at Ripon last time out and is considered along with Witham River, who is too well treated to ignore.

ATR VERDICT: HARRY'S HILL goes for a hat-trick of wins over the minimum distance and can continue his progression. He won at Tipperary before slamming twenty rivals at the Curragh last month. The handicapper has had his say but Martin Hassett's charge can defy an 11lb hike. Inventor, a winner at Sligo on his penultimate start, has had three months off since being touched off by the selection at Tipperary. Taking riders' claims into account, he's 4lb better off on this occasion but that may not be enough given how impressive Harry's Hill was last time. Blind Beggar, useful for Richard Fahey last year, is still seeking a first win in Ireland but has run several good races including when runner-up over C&D in June. His latest run in a higher grade contest at Navan was creditable.

ATR VERDICT: SLY MADAM was far from disgraced in a Listed contest at Sandown on her latest outing and she could hold the aces in these much calmer waters. C&D winner Just Amber ought to provide a stern challenge, and Connor Planas' 7lb claim is a bonus. Flylikeaneagle was raised 5lb for his narrow Ayr success but he remains of interest, along with the consistent Red Kite.
